

A better idea would be for the federal government to adopt Wisconsin's No Call plan nationally. Let them send their trash through the mail and increase the rate for that 10 fold to fund the postal system. If telemarketers start calling me again they can have my phone.